Commissioner for Oaths: Fees and Appointments

Commissioner for Oaths · https://help.law.com.sg/faq/what-is-your-commissioning-fee/

Singapore Commissioner for Oaths fees are statutory prescribed (with limited exceptions) and not negotiable. To work out your fee, use our Commissioning Fee Calculator, then book an appointment at book.law.com.sg/commissioner-for-oaths.

When do I need a Commissioner for Oaths?

For documents requiring signing under oath for use in Singapore, the presence of a Commissioner for Oaths is mandatory. This typically applies to statutory declarations and affidavits. If your document is for use overseas, you may need a Notary Public instead. Our guide on whether to sign before a Commissioner, Notary Public or Lawyer explains which officer you need.

How much is the commissioning fee?

The fees are prescribed by statute, with limited exceptions, and are not negotiable. Please use the Commissioning Fee Calculator to compute the fee for your documents.

How are notarial fees different?

Notarial fees follow a similar statutory framework: charges for most notarial services, such as witnessing and issuing a Notarial Certificate, are prescribed by law and not negotiable, while services outside what is prescribed are charged at the Notary Public's rates based on the nature and complexity of the request. If you need notarisation rather than commissioning, see our Notary Public Fee Guide, or compute fees directly with the Notary Public CTC Fee Calculator and the Notary Public Witnessing Fee Calculator.

How do I make an appointment?

1. Compute your fee with the Commissioning Fee Calculator.
2. Book your appointment through our online booking system at book.law.com.sg/commissioner-for-oaths.
3. Attend at our office with your documents and identification to sign before the Commissioner for Oaths.

If the person signing cannot attend at our office, for example a deponent in prison or in hospital, see our outcall services for prison and hospital visits.

How do I pay?

We accept PayNow, NETS or cash at our office, and contactless payment is preferred. Credit card payments are standardised for all our services: payment by credit card at our office attracts a 4% surcharge, and payment by Stripe credit card link attracts a 5% surcharge.
